As a young girl I was holding in my hands white and black Finnsheep wool, yarn which was fulling too well. Once I found felt making and the endless possibilities of combining colors, I was amazed.

My passionate relationship with colors was released when the wheels of carding machine started rolling. The years have mixed my Finn sheep, their fleeces and felt making into my colorful brand, PIIKU.

I float with the enchantment of wool fibers and colors and make felt by simple methods and aim to achieve clear and strong product.
